Report of Fire Apparatus Committee

The fire apparatus committee, composed of L. M. Carroll, P. P. Stone, Z. L. Merchant, E. S. Cummings and George F. Hathaway, have the following to say: "After seeing several different pieces of apparatus in operation, we decided that the cost of a pumper was more than the Corporation could afford at present and we recommend that the Corporation raise the sum of $1,000 to purchase a Ford chassis, have a body built for same that will carry 800 feet of hose and put our present chemical on the body, also a 12 ft. roof ladder and a 20 ft. extension ladder. We also recommend that the corporation raise the sum of $300.00 to put a machine in the telephone exchange that the operator can, by pushing a button, pull any box in the corporation that she is asked to do by telephone in case of a fire in any part of the corporation. We feel that these two pieces of apparatus will greatly facilitate the fireman in getting to a fire and the expense to the corporation will be very small."

Maine State Baseball League Predicted

Frank E. Decester attended the conference of baseball managers at Lewiston Monday evening as representative of the interests about Norway and South Paris. His constituents are not entirely in favor of organized baseball so he was unable to go definitely on record at that time. The matter will be discussed at a meeting in Norway or South Paris and action taken.

Ben Houser expects to organize a Maine League on March 27 with eight and possibly ten teams. The prevailing sentiment at the conference was in favor of booking up all sporting concerns. As reported, Lewiston, Augusta, Portland and Dixfield are strongly in favor of a circuit. Twin-Towns, Farmington, Livermore Falls and Waterville as fence riders are expected to report at the next conference, Mar. 27, after presenting the matter to their respective towns.

The pros and cons were discussed but sentiment favored league management to standardize salaries, equalize the field strength of the clubs, and give a definite schedule of games in each league town. A claim was made better games at less expense would result from united action. It was pointed out the haphazard way of securing games under the independent system generally resulted in dissatisfaction and loss of patronage. According to representative independent methods are responsible for the present deplorable state of baseball sportsmanship.

A percentage basis is offered to keep the finances up during the two season schedule. For example, a home team is entitled to 60 per cent and the visitors to 40 per cent of the gate receipts. Consequently every town receives the financial benefits of the headlines and favorable games played each week. The teams are working and kept physically fit, also a source of income to the local organization. Majority will rule so far as this case is concerned locally. Individual subscription will float the team and public opinion should decide whether or not we join the procession. Until the question is handled from every angle and certain lazy points made clear at a public meeting, jumping at conclusions should be avoided.

She communicated with Mr. Porter who is a successful business man at Rumford, and the bonds of relationship were established.

Randall Porter came to Norway many years ago soon after the death of his parents and lived with his aunts, Mrs. Albert P. Bassett and Lillian York. Thaddeus Cross

Thaddeus Cross, aged 78, a well known citizen of Norway passed away suddenly Friday afternoon, March 16, at his home on Deering street. Angina pectoris is given as the cause of his death. Mr. Cross was in his usual good health and cheerful spirits to within a very short time of his passing out.

Mr. Cross was born at Sahanoc, N. Y., April 19, 1845, the son of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Cross. His early life was spent in New York state where he attended school and received supplementary instruction from his father who was educated and a thinker. Mr. Cross in referring to these years, often spoke of the friendship existing between his father and John Brown, the abolitionist supporter of the cause. This was a frequent topic at the home and Mr. Cross as a youth knew him well.

Mr. Cross served during the civil war as Corporal of Company A 10th Maine Regiment. After the war he located in Bridgton and for a number of years was a foreman in the woolen mill. He married Annie G. Dodge of Bridgton in May 1865. Fifteen years later they moved to Norway which has since been their home.

Mr. Cross served sixteen years as deputy sheriff of Oxford County and was superintendent of the corn factory several years. He was a Mason and raised in Oriental Lodge at Bridgton, also affiliated with several Masonic bodies in Norway and had held important offices in the orders.

Mrs. Cross passed away on October 28, 1922 and since that time his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Libby made him comfortable in his physical handicap. He kept the home open as in former days.

The deceased leaves a son Ned G. Cross and two daughters, Mrs. A. L. Cook and Mrs. W. L. Libby, all of Norway.
Funeral at the home Monday afternoon was in charge of Oxford Lodge No. 18 F. and A. M., Rev. C. G. Miller officiated. The bearers were Frank P. Stone, Albert J. Stearns, Robert F. Bickford and Leon M. Longley. Burial will be at Norway Pine Grove Cemetery.

By the death of Thaddeus Cross the number of Civil War soldiers living in Norway has been reduced to two.

Three have passed away since Jan. 1. Mr. Cross enlisted in 1861 from Saco in Co. A 10th Me. at 16, but gave his age as 19 to pass muster. He was in Gen. W. P. Bank's retreat down the Shenandoah valley from Winchester, Va., to Williamsport on the Potomac, a distance of 35 miles in one day in the springtime of 1862.

Colonel Geo. Stonewall Jackson's army. Colonel Geo. L. Beals 10th Me. Reg't. covering the retreat. Young Cross stood the fatigue of the rapid march and sharp skirmishing as well as the older and more able bodied men. He participated with his command in the bloody battles of Cedar Mt., Va. and Antietam, Md. and was at Gettysburg in the 10th Me. Battalion which was then the headquarters guard of Gen. W. S. Schoon commanding the 12th Army Corps. He was in all the engagements in which his company was under fire and during his three years service never received a wound.

After the war having moved to Bridgton he was for a while captain of a military company there and was credited with being the best drillmaster in the state.

After coming to Norway he served many years as a deputy sheriff and was one of the most efficient and trustworthy of officers. Thaddeus Cross was a good, law abiding citizen, a man of integrity and one of the truest and most faithful of friends.—C. F. W.

Travelers' Minstrels Full of Fun

Snappy music, uproarious comedy and well assorted jokes characterized the United Commercial Travelers' Minstrel show on Deering street. Angina pectoris is given as the cause of his death. Mr. Cross was in his usual good health and cheerful spirits to within a very short time of his passing out.

Chapman's Concert

Prof. William R. Chapman will present his annual concert in Association Hall, South Paris on Saturday evening, April 14. The artists secured are Miss Lottie Howell, lyric soprano and Kola Levenne, cellist.

Mr. Levenne has a national reputation as he played in all the European Capitals before coming to this country and made his debut in Russia at the age of eight and has long been recognized as the greatest cellist in Russia. He will play a program that will please all tastes. He has a most marvelous tone, and a technique. There has been nothing written for the violin even the most difficult concertos, that he cannot play on the cello and in a number of his selections he will play some of the cadenzas.

Mr. Chapman is enthusiastic over his good fortune in securing Miss Lottie Howell, soprano from the New York Opera Company, for this tour of concerts. She has been the leading soprano of that company for the past season just closed in New Orleans. She possesses a lyric voice of a most beautiful quality and a wonderful range. Besides singing in the opera, she has been giving her own recitals in the South and West. She will sing songs in English, French and Italian besides her operatic arias, also a group of Spanish songs in costume and action. She has a charming personality and quoting from the Press "She is a vision of loveliness to look at, as well as possessing a most glorious voice. Her singing of the 'Loulou' by Aris Carpentier, last season, was acknowledged by all musicians as the most artistic work heard there. She will sing this great aria at this concert, also the 'Ah, fors a Jui' aria from 'La Traviata' by Verdi, which was made famous by Madame Sembrich.

Mr. Chapman's work at the piano as an accompanist needs no comment and he will accompany these artists in his own inimitable way. Tickets will be at popular prices, not withstanding these high classed attractions.

A grand march opened the dance program at 9:15 o'clock, music by the Band Orchestra of twelve pieces, W. S. Stearns conductor and promoter. IS IT RHEUMATISM?

Aren't You Really on the Wrong Track?

A good share of so-called rheumatism is caused by weak kidneys. When the kidneys fail to clear the blood of uric acid, the acid irritates the delicate nerves. Torturing pains dart through the affected part whenever it is moved. By strengthening the kidneys, Doan's Kidney Pills have proven their worth in thousands of so-called rheumatic cases; lumbago, sciatica, gravel, and urinary disorders. Doan's are well known in Norway and warmly recommended by Norway people. Read this Norway case:

Mrs. F. L. Starbird of South Paris, who formerly lived in rear Beals Hotel, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been an old standby with me for years. At times my kidneys don't act as they should or my back aches. I often have blinding dizzy spells and rheumatic trouble when my finger joints seem to swell and are painful. I always use Doan's Kidney Pills at these times and they quickly relieve and cure me of the attack. I can't say enough in praise of Doan's."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Starbird had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

MORE MEN THAN WOMEN HAVE APPENDICITIS
Medical reports shown men are more subject to appendicitis although many sudden cases occur among women. It can be guarded against by preventing intestinal infection. The intestinal and pelvic Adleri-ka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing all foul, decaying matter which might cause infection. It brings out matter you never thought was in your system and which may have been poisoning you for months. Adleri-ka is EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach. Frank Kimball, Druggist.

Found Unconscious
The funeral of Lucius Packard were held from the church Friday afternoon. The burial was at Brighton Hill. Mr. Packard was about 75 years of age and lived alone on the Buckfield road. Last Tuesday he failed to make his usual trip to the milk car and neighbors went to the place, finding him unconscious in the barn where he had evidently suffered a shock while doing the morning chores and must have been there all day in a helpless condition. He was carried to the house and made comfortable as possible that night. Wednesday morning he was moved to the hospital at Lewiston but lived only a short time after arriving there.

Besides his wife, his son and his sister, Mr. Black leaves a wide circle of relatives and many friends. The home coming was March 19.

Mrs. Bernice Mason Jock, daughter of Irvin and Lilla Mason, passed away, March 16th, after much suffering caused by a malignant tumor. She became the bride of Frank Jack of Kezar Falls, the man she was engaged to marry, at his most urgent request, who over ruled all objections that he might be with her to the last and aid and sustain her by his presence during the brief span of life before her. Rev. Mr. Thurlow of the Advent Church gave his blessing on the young couple and later when they had come to "the parting of the ways" pronounced the benediction.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Canton Scouts On Hike
Troop No. 1, Canton was well represented on its recent hike to Mt. Thorne, March 3rd. Every Scout was equipped with snow shoes. Asst. Scoutmaster Walts and Executive Perham accompanied the troop. The weather was good and the way was rough, but after much sweating, and repairing of snow shoe gear, Mt. Thorne was reached and dinner preparations underway. Two scouts passed their cooking tests.

After the hike everyone came in for some real outdoor sports. A relay race through the drifts came first with a tie score. Next, Winter Volley Ball brought "signs of spring" as the snowball thudded home to their intended destination. After this the troop donned their snowshoes and slid down to the foot of the mountain where everyone took part in the snow shoe races.

Oxford Scouts On Active List Again
Around fifteen scouts turned out at the meeting held March 1 at the High School building. Plans for active participation in Scouting were definitely laid. Charles Hamlen, Principal Oxford High School will be in charge of the troop. Following the business meeting, a Knot Tying Contest, carried undivided attention. Several boxing matches put real pep into the evening's progress. The following scouts hold Second Class rank: Merton Edgely, George Fletcher, Emile G. Barrett, George Patterson, Sylvester Pratt, Horace Bryant.

Troop No. 1, South Paris did their first Public Good Turn of the year 1923, when they furnished the entire list of ushers in the drama "An American Hustler" which was held in the Association Hall, March 8th. The drama was given under the auspices of the I. O. O. F., South Paris.

Rumford Point and Andover
The boys throughout the Rumford Point-Hanover section are preparing for scouting with active interest. On the evening of March 5th, a scout meeting was held to talk over plans for the future. Every boy who knew of the meeting was on deck. Executive Perham was on hand to assist.

A scoutmaster committee was formed by the boys and were to report at the next meeting. Elwood McPherson, James Farren and Glendon Hutchins were appointed examiners for tenderfoot work indefinitely. After official business everyone turned to for instruction in knot tying. This was followed by a knot-tying contest with a score of 95 out of a total 108.

South Paris Banquet
Troop No. 1, So. Paris, held its official Annual Banquet, fathers, mothers, scouts, and committeemen totaled a strong eighty. This banquet was the first one held in South Paris that has been open to the parents of the scouts as well as the scouts.

Albert D. Park was the presiding toastmaster. Short talks were given as follows: Scout, its laws and effects, scoutmaster Wm. H. Harriman; The Alaskan Trail, George R. Morton; Local Scouting, D. M. Stewart; Scouting and the Schools, Ralph W. Masterman; Scouting in General, Executive Harold C. Perham.

The program following the banquet was snappy and well executed. The First Aid Demonstration included Fireman's life, fireman's drag, three man carry, roller bandaging, triangular bandaging, stretcher making, signal practice, and boxing came next. Scouts H. Knight, Brooks, W. Bennett, C. Bumpus, J. Chandler, Francis Edwards, E. Thurlow, A. Morse, H. Hammond, G. Merrill, H. McKinley and Clifford Dumas did a 100% job in making this demonstration a success.

H U D S O N

OUR HOME-MAKER

Where the mountains slope to the Westward,
And their purple chasms hold
The new made wine of the sunset—
Crimson and amber and gold.

In this old wide-open doorway,
With the elm boughs overhead,
The house all garnished behind him,
And the plentiful table spread.

He has stood to welcome our coming,
Watching our upward climb,
In the sweet June weather that brought us
Oh, many and many a time.

Again is the doorway opened,
And the house is garnished and sweet;
But he silently waits for our coming
And we enter with silent feet.

A little within he is waiting,
Not where he has met us before,
For over the pleasant threshold
He is only to cross once more.

The smile on his face is quiet,
And flowers are on his breast,
His hands are folded together
And the word on his lips is "rest."

And yet it looks like a welcome
For his work is compassed and done,
All things are seemly and ready,
And his summer is just begun.

It is we who may not cross over,
Only with song and prayer,
A little way into the glory,
We may reach as we leave him there.

But we cannot think of him idle,
For his work is compassed and done,
All things are seemly and ready,
And his summer is just begun.

EASTER

What shall I get for Easter is the question that gets on the nerves of the men as well as the fair sex. This Easter showing of ours bids fair to rival if not excel any we ever had in the past. Showing it as we are in our new quarters makes it more tempting than it ever did in the old quarters. However, we can pass no regrets on the interior of the old land-mark which has been a furnishing store for a half century—instead, we could write boldly on the four walls of its interior the big word—SUCCESS.

We will be pleased to receive a call from you at any time.

Basketball Summary

Norway High School basketball team completed its schedule Saturday night. About an even break was landed and the public given fast and clean basket ball. Coach Luce entered the game after boys organized and in a short time developed speed, team work and morale in the easy going outfit. Holding players accountable to the strict playing rules left its good effects. It improved sportsmanship and increased interest along the side lines. With few exceptions the team has played within its class and put up better than an average game. A wallop or two early in the season only increased their activity to develop form, although every event did not result in victory.

Barring the unforeseen, this team has a strong foundation for next season losing but two by graduation. Subs are all set to fill the vacancy and other material has been in the making this winter.

In common with the psychology of things Norway was six of the nine games played at home. Five from a total of eight games lost were away from home. Both conditions are normal and mentioned to illustrate the effects of changed environment even on a well established outfit. Standardizing the referee berth should be done if possible, but those who know realize it can't fix the rule as present conditions prove. Elevate the sport above petty school jealousies calling for "win at all costs," then we've made a beginning. Discourage "faking" to draw free tries on the foul line and other self stuff to befuddle the hard working officials. Everybody learn to play on the square or this splendid winter sport will soon become an object of charity and end locally on some junk pile.

A REMINISCENCE

By Mrs. Harriet E. Charles

The account in your paper recently of the fire which destroyed the old mill at the Falls, gave me renewed interest in that part of the town, as it was my home for many years there.

My father, Benjamin Barrows, one of the early settlers of the town lived very near the Falls, and the old mill. The roar of the water fall lulled us to sleep for many long years. In the year of 1850, our old house was removed, and a new one erected on the same site. The article in your paper leads me to infer there was some uncertainty regarding the age of the mill. The History of Norway stated it was built for a paper mill from the first, but I have never heard of a paper mill, until the Denison Co. in 1845, used it for that purpose. My impression is that it was built before 1840 and was occupied by Richard Houghton, as a Gun Manufactory. I am very sure that he was an early resident of the town as his dwelling was near my father's.

I feel almost certain that he was the first occupant of the old mill. But if I am wrong I should like to be enlightened by someone who knows the truth of the matter.

However, the old mill had a long and honorable existence, and the old landmark will be greatly missed. I think it has suffered from fire before its final extinction. I remember that in the year 1859, we were awakened one night by the alarm of fire and it looked as though the building would have to go but it was spared. I think there were other alarms during its long life.

It seems to me that Norway has suffered much from fire and other calamities, but I recall but one "flood." The winter of 1844-45 was one of great severity. Snow began to fall early. We children always expected that we should have snow enough on Thanksgiving Day for us to "slide down hill," but that year we had more than we needed. In December snow fell almost daily and the stage coach which ran between Portland and Norway had many delays on account of drifting snows. January brought us no "thaw," and snow continued to fall. February during the first few days seemed quite mild and though snow storms were numerous, they were not so heavy.

In March, a protracted rain storm gave much anxiety as to the safety of the dam at the outlet of the pond. There had been occasional freshets, when snows were deep in winter, and melted in spring, but they were as nothing compared with the aforesaid "flood," in the spring of 1845. Probably there are very few living who remember the "flood," as far back as the early forties. There was much talk of needed repairs and I think there was something accomplished but the stage driver brought news of the overflow of streams and much damage resulting from the rising water.

The disheartening news caused a more vigorous attack on the work of the dam, until they felt that they had done all they could to prevent being swept away.

One morning word came to us that disaster could not be averted. It was about noon when the crash came. The waters of old Penneesseewassee came down over the meadows and took the bridge first, then the Peg factory owned by Julian Brown's grandfather, a large barn and some smaller buildings, rushed through the old Bodwell House at the foot of the hill, and left it standing intact. I was then about 10 years old and the falling of the buildings, the awful rushing of waters, the crying children, the screams of nervous women left an impression on my mind which I shall never forget. I will remember my father packing a few valuables to be removed with some furniture, placed it where it would be under the care of. It struck terror to my heart.

My father's work shop was located much nearer the water, he collected tools and took them to a place of safety. A large number of people had gathered near the scene to watch the impending danger. The night following the exciting events of the day brought no rest to those who were near the scene.

They were busy carrying off the debris, digging drains to carry off the surplus amount of water. The younger children spent the night at a neighbors, at Mrs. Freeman Millett's, who lived nearly opposite our house on a hill, but the grown-ups remained at the scene of destruction. I think there were no lives lost, but the damage to property and the loss to the town must have been considerable.

MAYOR DAY FOR GOVERNOR

The announcement of the candidacy of Hon. Albert R. Day, Mayor of Bangor, for the Republican nomination for Governor of Maine will be read with interest all over the State of Maine for Mayor Day is everywhere known and counts his friends by the thousands. The title "Mayor" is a recent one but back in the days when he was a well known and prominent figure at every important Republican gathering, he was known as President Day in recognition of his presidency of the Maine Senate, as Collector Day when he was collector of the port of Bangor, but always then as now as "Bert" Day to his hosts of friends.

Mr. Day apparently retired from active politics some years ago but his friends insisted upon his nomination for Mayor last year and again this year and now the approval of the Republicans of Penobscot County and the neighboring counties is placed upon the action of Mayor Day in deciding to enter the lists for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, an action responsive to the desires of the leaders and rank and file of the party in Eastern Maine and in the belief that Penobscot county is entitled to such representation. As a matter of fact Mr. Day has never retired from politics but has always been a consistent supporter of the Republican party and his voice has been a powerful one in the councils of the party.

Albert R. Day was born in Dixmont, Penobscot County, March 2, 1860. His father was a physician with a large practice and moved to Bangor in 1862 and to Corinna in 1870. The son attended the common schools and Corinna Union Academy, and then for several years was a school teacher, being principal of the high schools at Vinalhaven and at Stetson. In 1886 he engaged in business in Dixmont which he continued successfully for seven or eight years when he sold out and opened a store in Corinna where he was equally successful. At the age of twenty-one years he was chosen superintendent of schools in Corinna and has always maintained his early interest in educational matters.

Mr. Day was elected to the Maine House in 1893 and to the Senate in 1895 and again in 1897. He quickly achieved an important position in the Legislature and was elected president of the Senate in 1897.

Mr. Day moved to Bangor in 1899, having been appointed Collector of the Port of Bangor. He acquired an interest in the Adams Dry Goods Co., wholesale dry goods and furnishings in 1903 and for more than 20 years was president of the company, one of the most important and best known in its line in Maine. Mr. Day also served as treasurer of the company for several years and when he sold out the business in 1921 he was the only surviving active member of this prosperous concern. Mr. Day was prevailed upon to accept the Republican nomination for Mayor of Bangor in 1922 and was elected by an imposing majority. He was re-elected in 1923 and holds the position now. He had previously served as Alderman from Ward Four.

In early life Mr. Day was prominent in the advancement of the Odd Fellows. He is a 32d degree Mason, joined Korat Temple Mystic Shrine soon after its organization and afterwards affiliated with Anah Temple. He has always taken a deep interest in municipal and state affairs but has never lost sight of the importance of business success, which he has constantly achieved. He has never made a failure of any of his undertakings and has now retired from active business, although keeping in close touch with business conditions and ready to participate in forwarding any worthy object.

Mr. Day was married to Alberta B. Tibbets, in 1887, and from this marriage there were three children, Helen M., now wife of Lawrence E. Philbrook of Shelburne, N. H., Marion L. of Bangor and Clara who was taken away at the age of eight.

In the candidacy of Mayor Day there is offered the candidacy of an eminently successful business man, thoroughly acquainted with the affairs of the state, both by experience and keen study.
